

The Copper Queen Store.

Easter Gloves of Kid.

With nearly every woman, the jinglet about "something new on Easter wear" applies with great force when it concerns gloves, and becomes almost an edict.

Whether she has everything else or nothing else new, she must have new gloves for Easter.

$1.25 and $1.75 a pair.

At the former price we have one style—a three clasp glove—in all the best and most called for shades: tans, slates, black and white.

Is an exceptionally good glove that is priced at $1.75 a pair. Three clasp, glazed kid or suede—perhaps you know the latter as undressed kid; black, white and the shades of tan and gray.

New Walking Skirts.

As this is being written they are still unpriced—so recently are they out of the express office.

In the first lot of walking skirts received about ten days ago, there were a very few of the same style as those just unpacked. They were the first to be picked out—in fact they were scarcely here before they were gone.

One style in various shades of gray and blue has six rows of stitching around the bottom of a graduated flounce, above which are semi-circular rows of stitching; the top of the flounce is self-strapped and stitched, and the straps end in points every little ways. It is a very stylish skirt, indeed.

Another is of homespun in shades of gray and brown. The bottom of flounce has rows of stitching. This skirt is made simple, but the material gives it the stylish appearance.

Still another style has a stitched flounce with a plain ruffle, stitched also, at the top.

A light weight skirt is of covert: flounce with rows of straight and semi-circular stitching; each gore is self-strapped from seam to seam, the straps running up the seam a few inches and ending in a point.

We've mentioned gloves and walking skirts only—but the dry goods store is full of interesting new goods for spring.

CECIL RHODES THE DIAMOND KING DEAD

Cape Town, March 26.—Cecil Rhodes, the Colossus of South Africa, died at 5:57 o'clock this evening. After a long illness from heart disease and other complications, he died at the age of forty-seven years.

Cecil Rhodes was the multi-millionaire of South Africa, and has done more than all others in developing the marvelous resources of that country. His ardent dream had ever been the empire of Africa. He constructed railroads, introduced modern improvements and made the diamond fields famous to all the world. He was a great measure responsible for Great Britain's trouble in the Transvaal and the Boers at all times during this trouble offered a big reward for him dead or alive.

Perhaps as the diamond king he was most widely known, and together with Barney Barnato that the marvelous riches of the Transvaal were first presented to the markets of the world. He was interested in the gold fields of South Africa and was identified with the Boken Hill mine. He has been one of the greatest speculators and promoters of the past century, and will be greatly missed in the financial world. He was never married and lived with his only sister in a castle of splendor.

THE CANDIDATES ARE INTERVIEWED.

Yesterday afternoon the two candidates for the office of Mayor expressed their views on matters pertaining to Bisbee's future.

Each of the candidates favors about the same improvements, and agree that politics have no place in the election of the next set of city officials.

Neither one of the men intends to make an active campaign for the office. They leave that to the tender mercies of the public.

Both H. W. Studley and J. J. Muirhead have been in the city for a number of years and are favorably known.

But eleven days remain before the election takes place and a warm campaign is expected on all sides.

STUDLEY'S VIEWS.

When he read the Review yesterday morning, H. W. Studley learned for the first time that he had been nominated the night before, on the Democratic ticket, for the office of Mayor. He was not present at the convention. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Studley was seen at his residence and talked about things he will try to do if elected. He intends to conduct a quiet campaign and will let his friends look after his interests. He is employed as a mine boss and says that his time is taken up to such an extent that he cannot make a vigorous campaign.

"If elected," said he, "I will do everything I can to give Bisbee good government. I will at all times stand for law and order and the rigid enforcement of the city's laws.

"I do not intend to, at any time, encourage the liquor element, for I am personally opposed to the business. This will not stand in the way of my dealing justly with those connected with saloons, should we be brought together in the course of the city's business.

"I always have been in favor of a clean and sanitary city, and should I be the next Mayor I will at all times support any move that has this object in view. The expense would not be as great as it may appear. The city could keep the streets clean and the individuals their private property.

"We really have no fire protection the way things are now, and this will be one of the first matters the new council should look after. I am in favor of encouraging any company that will bring into the city water to supply our needs.

"It would be useless to put in fire plugs and hydrants until there is water to fill them. If the water is pumped here from Naco I would favor building a reservoir, or water tanks, on one of the hillsides above the city. This would give the city a good water pressure.

"There are many important matters to come up before the city council in the near future, and I feel that while the Mayor sits as a chairman, he will be called upon to take sides many times. If the people elect me I will always try to act with impartiality toward everyone.

"National politics have no place in the affairs of this city, and I am convinced that it is the duty of the city officials to be guided in their actions by the needs of the city and not the platforms of the party to which they belong."

MUIRHEAD'S VIEWS.

J. J. Muirhead, Republican candidate for Mayor, stopped working at a pump handle long enough yesterday afternoon to be interviewed. He had just come off shift in the mine, where he is employed as a boss.

Mr. Muirhead is at present acting as Mayor of the city and hopes to be the next one. He will not enter actively into the local campaign. He says if the people desire that he will place him in office without his soliciting their support.

"I propose, if elected," said he, "to do what I can to benefit the city. There are a number of things that can be improved in the present condition of affairs.

"Cleaning up the city will help to a great extent and this I will favor as long as I am in office, if put there by the people. We must have a clean city or incorporation will not have served its purpose.

"We can do very little with the sewerage question until the city gets more water. A thorough system of drainage is badly needed but water with which to flush the pipes must be had before we can have the sewers. Fire protection is something we must have as soon as possible. I will advocate more fire plugs and pipes carrying water all over the city. We need more tanks in which to keep in reserve a large supply of water in case of big fires.

"I am in favor of general improvements on all of the streets of the city. A good plan would be to raise the curbs of all the streets and drain the water to the sides, wherever possible sidewalks should be built.

"The last thing that should figure in this campaign is politics. If I am the next mayor I will act on the plan that one party has as much right to all privileges as any other."

WHO CAN VOTE?

Attorney Miller Interprets the Law for the Benefit of Review Readers.

An important matter that is just now agitating the minds of local politicians is what entitles a person to vote. Last night Attorney Miller was asked to express his opinion for Review readers. He said:

"The town of Bisbee was incorporated under chapter nine of the revised statutes of Arizona. It was incorporated as a city under section two of the political code, by vote of the council and thereupon divided into wards.

"By section ten of article five of the same chapter, being section 561 of the code, it is provided that no person shall be entitled to vote at any election in any such town who is not entitled to vote at elections of county officers, and who shall not also have resided for six months continuously preceding such election in such town.

"The said act under which Bisbee was incorporated makes no other provision as to the qualification of voters except that above quoted, and by the provisions of section 2282 of the political code, fixing the qualification of electors it is expressly provided among other things that every person to be an elector must have his name upon the great register of the county.

"Reading the two provisions of the law together it follows that an elector or a person qualified to vote at the approaching election in the city of Bisbee must be a male citizen of the United States of the age of 21 years who shall have been a resident of the territory one year next preceding the election and of the county and ward thirty days, and of the town, now city of Bisbee for six months and whose name is enrolled on the great register of the county.

"Any person whose name appears on the great register of the county, and who possesses the other qualifications will be entitled to vote even though his name does not appear on the purported copy of such register posted at the polling places, although the latter is supposed to be accurate and a true copy."

G. D. Cash the superintendent of the La Cananea railroad, in Sonora, was here Thursday. Mr. Cash was for a number of years chief clerk in the office of E. B. Burns the resident engineer of the Santa Fe Pacific when his headquarters were at Williams. A few years ago Mr. Cash was offered a responsible position with the Cobre Grande Company, and he rose step by step to his present position.—Williams News.

ADVERTISEMENT IS A GOOD SALESMAN.

W. D. Hambridge, manager of the Copper Queen store's advertising department, said yesterday afternoon:

"Advertising like everything else is either good, bad or indifferent. There is no doubt that the right kind pays.

"If you have a thing to sell the way to do it is to tell just as many people as you can in the plainest possible manner.

"The wise merchant knows better, in these days of keen competition than to wait for customers to come to him. He goes after them.

"A good advertisement is a good salesman. It takes the subject in hand and explains to a large number of people at the same time.

"The main point in an advertisement is to have it written in such a manner that the reader will read it through.

"I do not see how any man can afford to be without an advertisement in his home paper. It is the most important feature in his plan for getting trade.

"Some wonderful things have been done through shrewd advertising. Men have started in business with small capital and by the right kind of advertising made hundreds of thousands of dollars."

The advertisements for the Copper Queen store written by Mr. Hambridge and published in the Review, are worthy of praise.

NAMES SELECTED.

In Attorney O'Connell's office last night the Democrats selected the following names who will be suggested to the city council tonight to act as election officers:

First Ward—Judges, S. M. Burr and J. W. Wright; clerk, Tom Woods.

Second Ward—Judges, J. H. James and D. P. Hickey; clerk, M. J. Bowen.

Third Ward—Judges, F. E. Johnston and Fred Fuss; clerk, Harry Brown.

AWFUL BLIZZARD.

The Entire Northwest Covered With a Blanket of Snow.

Cheyenne, March 26.—A blizzard throughout southwestern Wyoming began Monday and only ended this morning. An entire section of the country, including western Nebraska and northern Colorado, is covered with a tremendous blanket of snow.

MARK SMITH WILL AGAIN BE CANDIDATE

The Review was shown a letter yesterday by a prominent Democrat of Cochise county written by Hon. M. A. Smith at Washington on March 15th, in which he says that in all probability he will again be a candidate for delegate to congress.

The letter was written in answer to a direct question as friends of Mark Smith were desirous of knowing just how he felt about the matter.

Other candidates for the nomination are actively engaged in soliciting the support of prominent party-men throughout the territory, and the warm supporters of the present delegate were anxious of learning at an early date what his wishes were in the matter.

LOCAL REPUBLICANS NOMINATE ALDERMEN

Last night the Republicans met in the three wards and filled out their city ticket by nominating aldermen.

Long before the time came to call the meeting to order large numbers of Republicans were present. Until the time came to call the meetings to order, those present discussed the different features of campaign and the relative strength of the candidates.

While the conventions were in session the streets were practically deserted, and remained so until the meetings were over. Then the delegates scattered all over the city to gather in small groups to talk about political matters.

One of the principal topics was the qualifications of voters. It was stated at one place that the city council will tonight pursue a course about the same as outlined in another part of the paper by Attorney Miller.

The First ward met in the home house with a fair representation of the citizens of the ward present. Their session was brief and to the point.

The first thing done was to make Thomas Constable chairman and S. K. Williams secretary.

As soon as the chair announced that the nomination of two aldermen was in order the names of Ed Scott and A. W. Kindred were proposed.

A brief wait disclosed the fact that no one else was to be nominated and the two named were nominated by acclamation.

Second Ward.

The Second Ward was the last to get through with its work. Before the meeting closed the most of the delegates from the other wards came in to see what was going on.

After the meeting was called to order, H. N. Woods, was made chairman and Wm. Kinsey secretary.

The chair appointed E. A. Wittig and Joseph Schwartz to act as tellers. At this point a question of the qualifications of voters came up and it was decided that Hughes' name not being on the great register he could not be a candidate.

The convention then proceeded to ballot with the following result: Hunt, ten; Jackson, nine; Hughes, four. The first two were declared nominated.

Third Ward.

The Third ward was the first to finish its work. The delegates met in the Johnson hall and a large number were present. W. A. Nash was elected chairman and F. E. Coles secretary.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Last night at the different ward conventions, the Republicans filled out their city ticket which is as follows:

Mayor—J. J. Muirhead.
City Clerk—Wm. Kinsey.
City Marshal—Dayton Graham.
Street Supervisor—Sam Bowers.
Aldermen.

First Ward—Ed Scott and A. W. Kindred.

Second Ward—L. J. Jackson and Lewis Hunt.

Third Ward—C. C. Warner and P. Johnson.

retary.

Those nominated for aldermen were C. C. Warner, P. Johnson and H. Schmeling. When the ballots were counted the result stood as follows: Warner, twenty Johnson, nineteen; Schmeling, one. The first two were declared nominated.

Those who acted as tellers were S. W. Clawson and J. J. Muirhead. The meeting adjourned after the result of the balloting was announced.

UTAH IS AFTER RICH TERRITORY.

REPRESENTATIVE SUTHERLAND IS PUSHING HIS BILL.

Utah Wants All That Part of Arizona Lying North of the Colorado River.

What is Arizona doing to prevent the passage of the bill introduced in the House a few days ago by a representative from Utah, providing for the annexation of part of Arizona to the State of Utah?

No doubt our delegate is up in arms, but he may need some help. Strong protests should be sent in immediately from every part of Arizona.

The bill states that the land is desert and is of no value to Arizona, and provides that the state of Utah shall within one year after enactment manifest its approval by a legislative act accepting said lands as a part of the state and extend county government over the same.

Several years ago Utah made an effort to secure that portion of Arizona lying north of the Colorado river, and Utah sent a committee to confer with the twentieth legislature of Arizona upon the advisability of disposing of that part of Arizona. The legislature did not approve of the matter nor were the people of Arizona then disposed to let it go.

At that time but little was known by the people of the territory of the portion north of the Colorado river, and it was considered of but little value. But Utah knew the worth of it, and therefore had a desire to obtain control before its value was realized.

The section which is covered by Utah lies within the borders of Coconino and Mohave counties, and it is rich in mineral and timber and is fairly well watered and has fine grazing lands. Its isolation has prevented its development and it would be a valuable acquisition to Utah.

During the past two years there has been marked development of the mines in the Buckskin mountains, and at least half a million dollars have been invested in these mines and their development. The cattle and sheepmen have discovered that it is a fine grazing section and they are pasturing large herds and bands on what is practically virgin grazing ground.

A large portion of the country extending from the Grand Canyon to beyond the Buckskins is covered with pine forest, the forest being equal to that in the vicinity of Flagstaff.

The portion of Arizona lying north of the Colorado river has resources enough to make it one of the most prosperous portions of the territory, and with the advent of a railroad, which is sure to come ere many years, its wealth will be rapidly developed.

There is scarcely a resident in that section that favors its transfer to Utah. Utah is not to be blamed for possessing a desire to attach this valuable portion of Arizona to its domain. The location of the coveted section to Utah is such that it would add a large amount of territory to that state and allow the expansion of the Mormon oligarchy under the favorable laws of that state, and this is probably the true reason of their desire to appropriate all of Arizona north of the Colorado.

The Alice Hamill Handcock recital will be given under the auspices of the public school for the benefit of the school library.

Jury Out on the Celebrated Rice Murder Case.

New York, March 26.—The jury in the case of Albert T. Patrick, charged with the murder of Millionaire Rice, went out at noon. Up to six o'clock they had not returned. The opinion is of acquittal.

Later—Albert T. Patrick was found guilty tonight of the murder, by poison, of millionaire Rice of Texas. The jury was out five hours.

METAL QUOTATIONS.

Copper, 13½; lead, 4.10; silver, 54½.

ARMY PROMOTIONS.

It is Conceded that Miles Will Be Succeeded by Wood.

Washington, March 26.—There is considerable speculation as to who would be appointed to fill the vacancy of major general caused by the retirement of Otis. General Wade, by right seniority, should get a double star, but three junior officers in the past have been promoted over his head. Generals Brooks and Wheaton will retire in July. There is little doubt that Leonard Wood will be promoted unless he get the present vacancy. It is generally admitted that Wood will eventually succeed Miles in command of the army.

INTERESTING DECISION.

Human Life Worth $7,500, and a Leg Worth $12,000.

New York, March 26.—The Court of Appeals the highest tribunal of the state, has appraised the value of human life and human leg. It decides in the case of Leslie Morris that the former is worth only $7,500, and in the case of John Fullerton, the latter is worth $12,000.

Alice Hamill Handcock will be assisted by local talent both vocal and instrumental, at Library Hall, Thursday evening, March 27.
